20 YEARS FOR MURDER OF HESS

Harrisburg Negro who Killed Gettysburg Man Pleads Guilty to Second Degree Murder and Gets a Twenty Year Sentence.

Pleading guilty to the murder of Edgar Hess, a former Gettysburg boy, in Harrisburg on December 18 last, William J. Thompson was sentenced Friday in Dauphin County Court to a term in the Eastern Penitentiary of twenty years of solitary confinement at hard labor.

The Gettysburg boy was shot after an argument over some trivial matter by Thompson who is said to have been very drunk at the time. Hess lived with his father who was a blacksmith at Round Top for several years. Later they moved to a farm on the Taneytown road near town where they resided for two years, coming to Gettysburg then for a year before moving to Harrisburg where he resided until the time of his death.

Thompson had entered a plea of "not guilty" to murder in the first degree on Thursday afternoon when the case was first brought up, but at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, when the District Attorney announced that "the Commonwealth rests," finding the accused innocent of murder in the first degree, his counsel at once entered a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree. This was accepted by the Court, and 14 minutes later the convicted man received his sentence.

Thompson is to pay a fine of $5 and serve not less than 19 years and 11 calendar months, or more than 20 years in the Eastern Penitentiary in Philadelphia.

The condemned man received his sentence without a quiver, and without a word. He looked straight at the judge while he pronounced sentence, and remained standing until the last word, then quietly accompanied the Sheriff back to the cell in the Dauphin County jail. Thompson will be 67 years of age when he leaves the Penitentiary if he lives, for he is now 47 years old.

William Chambers and Edwin Simmers were the two chief witnesses during the trial, both being on opposite sides of the fight that took place on a Harrisburg street just after 12 o'clock on Wednesday, December 18, last.

It was the evidence presented by these two men that counted most in the end, although almost twenty witnesses were called to the stand to testify. The statements given by all the different witnesses as to the cause and result of the quarrel that resulted in the shooting of Hess conflicted to a great extent. Judge McCarrell stated that, from the evidence, it was only just that the accused should be given this chance for the law allowed it. In addressing Thompson, Judge McCarrell said:

"William Thompson, you have pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree, and the District Attorney had decided to accept the plea. You have been convicted of a very serious charge. You have taken a man's life upon very slight provocation, and in your rising anger fired the fatal shot. You may have thought yourself justified of your action at the time, but it is hoped that you have repented by this time. In the absence of premeditated intent to kill, a matter of which I have been convinced in your case, I therefore declare you guilty of the murder of Edgar Hess in the second degree."

FOUND $750 IN FIREPLACE

William Mummert, who is remodeling the old Mummert homestead in McSherrystown, made quite a lucky strike. In tearing down an old brick fireplace, Mr. Mummert noticed among the debris a small wooden box. In giving it a kick, he discovered that it possessed great weight for so small a box. He picked it up, and after unfastening the two small brass clasps, which securely held the lid in place, was astonished to find three bags containing gold and silver coins to the amount of about $750. Mr. Mummert was greatly excited after his unexpected find, and the remodeling operations were continued with more vim and enthusiasm than before.

TO ERECT THREE FINE BUILDINGS

Limestone Church, Parochial School and Public School will be among the Fine Buildings to be Erected in New Oxford.

A new white limestone church, a large new parochial school building and a new and modern public school building are all proposed for New Oxford for the coming summer and the three handsome structures are expected to be under way before many weeks. Note of the public school building project was made in The Times some days ago.

At a congregational meeting of St. Paul's Reformed church it was decided to build their new church of native white limestone. At a meeting of the consistory the contract for the erection of the building was awarded to Eline Brothers, Littlestown, at a bid of $14,948. The other bidder was O. H. Hostetter, Hanover, whose bid was $14,922. Work will be commenced as soon as possible. Further information in regard to the size and style of the new building will be published later.

Announcement has been made to the congregation of the Immaculate Conception that work on a new parochial school building and hall will be commenced by that congregation about April 1. The new building, according to statements given out will be of brick, two stories high, of modern architecture with all modern conveniences. On the first floor there will be a hall 50 x 52 feet in size, for the purpose of holding suppers etc. On the second floor there will be four school rooms 22 x 26 feet in size.

The present school building, which stands on Golden Lane directly in the rear of the church, which has become too small to accommodate all, and which does not fully comply with the requirements of the law, will be torn down and the new one erected on the lot recently purchased adjoining the convent. It will face on the West side of North Peters street and will be pushed to completion as speedily as possible.

This building will stand only a few hundred feet from the handsome and up-to-date public school building to be erected this summer, the latter however will face on the East side of North street. This with the handsome white limestone Reformed church to be erected on South Peters street, will make that section of New Oxford a busy scene during the summer months and when completed will certainly make a great improvement in the appearance of that section of the borough.

PHOSPHORUS WORKS

MAY BE REOPENED

Residents in the vicinity of Hunsdale, Moore's Mill and Mooredale are hearing news to the effect that in all probability the phosphorus works near Moore's Mill will be put into operation in the near future. Because of the great operating expense, this plant was closed about six years ago, and not reopened in that period. The plant is a large one, located directly along the Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh railroad tracks. The phosphorus was mined from the hills of the South Mountains in large quantities, and was found deep in the earth.

WILL TAG TWO THOUSAND DOGS

County Commissioners Order that Many License Tags for the Dogs of the County. Constables Must Perform Duty.

The county commissioners have awarded a contract to William G. Johnson, Pittsburgh, to furnish 2,000 county dog tags for the year 1912. There are fully that many dogs assessed in the boroughs and townships of the county and the owners of the canines will be given the tags upon the payment of the taxes levied against them. The tax in this county is 50 cents for male dogs and $1.00 for female dogs. The revenue derived by the county officials from the tax is used to pay sheep and other losses caused by dogs.

The county tags will be delivered to the commissioners next week and will be distributed on Friday, March 29, among the collectors of the county and state taxes when they receive their duplicates for the year.

An act of assembly of 1911, which is supplementary to an act providing for the taxation of dogs and the protection of sheep, requires all dogs to wear collars to be provided by the owners, together with tags to be attached thereto showing payment of the tax to the county. The new law stipulates that in the event owners of dogs fail to comply with its provision with regard to having them properly tagged it is the duty of the tax collector and the right of any citizen of a district to notify the constable thereof of such failure and default and it is his duty to kill the canine. Constables will be allowed $1 for every such duty thus performed, the same to be paid out of the fund raised by the dog taxes levied.

Should any constable fail to execute any such dogs reported to him, he is liable to a fine of $2 for each offense, the same to be deducted when any settlements are made between said officer and the county commissioners.

The addition of the Shippensburg reserve to the Caledonia reserve will give the Caledonia reserve the distinction of having more picturesque and more important historical grounds than any reserve in the state.

APPROVES OF OUR NEW BOARD OF TRADE

Says the Harrisburg Teegraph in an editorial:

We have been much interested in reading in the Gettysburg Times an extended account of the organization of a new Board of Trade in that historic and picturesque town, to take the place of the old Merchants' Association, which became atrophied to a point where it literally shrank out of existence, because of failure to perform its proper functions.

"A merchants' association that doesn't associate a commercial organization of any kind which does not fulfill the only object of such an organization—co-operation and united, aggressive endeavor to promote the good of the community—has an early grave in prospect."

"The new Gettysburg Board of Trade seems to be starting out in the right way. Among its prime movers, we observe the names of such live, progressive citizens as R. C. Miller, Manager Ring, of the Hotel Gettysburg, and William Arch McLean."

"These are broad minded men, who have the interests of Gettysburg at heart; who realize that Gettysburg's interests are their interests, and that the interests of Gettysburg, in turn, cannot be bound up within the borough limits."

"Several members of the new board have expressed a desire to have the organization affiliated with the Harrisburg Civic Clearing House and arrangements are now being made with the Harrisburg Board of Trade to unite in a meeting of protest against the recent increase in round trip fares on the Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh branch of the Reading Railway."

"The Gettysburg board is fortunate in having so vital a question to deal with at the very outset of its career. It can handle it successfully, by co-operation with others who are equally affected, it will have demonstrated to the people of Gettysburg that such an association of representative citizens can do things if it will."

"We trust that our Civic Clearing House will not omit any courtesies or attentions which might serve to strengthen the inclinations of the Gettysburg board to identify itself with the only similar organization now in existence aiming to do for Central Pennsylvania what the board hopes to do for Gettysburg."

GIVEN SERENADE

Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Beegle who were married several days ago in Hagerstown returned to Gettysburg at 9.05 Friday evening. News of their arrival reached college in a short while and a big turnout was soon secured for serenading purposes. The Ridinger home on York street was visited, the usual racket was made and both bride and groom answered to calls for a speech. A flashlight was taken and after giving a yell for "Reds and his wife" the crowd dispersed.

OUTLAW TAKEN IN MOUNTAIN

Detectives Capture Sidna Edwards, One of Allen Clan.

SAY OTHERS ARE LOCATED

Prisoner Says He Surrendered Because He Took No Part in Shooting in Court House.

Hillsville, Va., March 23.—Sidna Edwards, nephew of Sidna Allen, and one of the Allen gang which took to the mountains after the court house assassinations here, was arrested at Lamsburg, Va., near the North Carolina line, without resistance, by a posse of detectives.

Edwards reached Hillsville in the custody of detectives and was immediately placed in jail. He would make no statement. Jasper Allen, known as Jack, a brother of Sidna Allen, joined young Edwards and the detectives on the road and came into town with them. Edwards was not handcuffed and appeared very docile.

Edwards at first objected to being placed in a cell, but the jailer, Burnett, insisted, and he submitted. The prisoner said he had voluntarily surrendered to the authorities because he "had taken no part in the shooting." He is under indictment, however, for murder.

When Jasper Allen was asked if young Edwards was armed, he laughed and said: "The boy wouldn't carry a gun if it were given to him. He is too peaceable."

It is believed that Jasper Allen may have had something to do with young Edwards' surrender and that he may advise others of the clan to do likewise. Edwards plainly showed the effects of several hard nights in the mountains.

The capture leads to the belief that others of the mountaineers soon will be in custody. They are believed to be in the vicinity of Lamsburg, a small village at the foot of the mountains and about twelve miles northwest of Mount Airy, N. C., just below the Virginia line. This section is several miles to the west of where the outlaws were supposed to have been two days ago.

Sidna Edwards is twenty-two years old, and a splendid type of the young mountaineer. He stands over six feet in height, weighs between 180 and 190 pounds, has dark hair and blue eyes.

At first a reward of only $300 was offered for his capture, but after the thorough investigation made by the state authorities as to his participation in the shooting, Governor Mann increased the amount to $1000, the same as offered for the capture, dead or alive, of Sidna Allen, leader of the clan.

Young Edwards was arrested by Tom Felts and W. W. Phauts, detectives, who had been in the mountains since last Tuesday. They found him wandering about aimlessly and hungry. A sore foot had troubled him greatly, and it is believed he was unable to keep up with the swift fugitives of base made by the other fugitives.

Sidna Edwards is the younger of the two Edwards brothers and the more venturesome. It was reported several days ago that he had made a sortie from the hiding place of the outlaws and had been seen by several persons. Edwards was easily recognized by his limp, resulting from a burn received recently in a distillery. He is a nephew of Sidna Allen, leader of the clan.

OFFER TO SURRENDER

Willing to Give Up if Punished No More Than With Prison.

Roanoke, Va., March 23.—An emissary of the Allens came to Roanoke and made a proposition to W. C. Baldwin, chief of detectives investigating the Hillsville shooting, that the outlaws would surrender provided their punishment be limited to imprisonment.

Baldwin refused positively to consider any such plan and later declined to discuss it.

Treasury Employees Get "Cashitis" From Piles of Coin.

Washington, March 23.—An epidemic of "cashitis," a new malady attended by vertigo, sharp headaches and stiff necks, caused by eye-strain in the glare of sunshine and electric lights on piles of new gold and silver coins, has broken out among treasury clerks and has resulted in the establishment of an emergency hospital room in the treasury building.

Bank Thieves Miss $35,000.

Cleveland, O., March 23.—Robbers broke into the Bank of Berea, a private institution at Berea, O., twelve miles west of here. Penetrating the outer vault, they looted 100 safety deposit boxes, obtaining $8000 in cash and jewelry. That the robbers were frightened away is believed, as they left the inner safe, containing $35,000 in cash, partially drilled. No clues are obtainable.

MINORITY WOOL BILL

Would Reduce Duties on Raw and Manufactured Goods.

Washington, March 23.—Republican members of the ways and means committee introduced a minority bill revising the woolen schedule of the present tariff law in accordance with their interpretation of the report of the tariff board.

The bill would reduce the duties on wool and manufactures of wool about 40 per cent. It would reclassify the grades of wool according to recommendation of the tariff board and duties would be made specific as in the present Payne-Aldrich act.

The bill was introduced by Representative Payne, of New York, former Republican leader of the house, after it had been offered in a meeting of the ways and means committee as a substitute for the Democratic bill which would place an ad valorem duty of 20 per cent on raw wool. The committee by a strict party vote ordered the Underwood bill favorably reported.

Under the Payne bill the equivalent ad valorem duty would be about 35 per cent on raw wool as compared with 20 per cent in the Underwood bill.

MARRIED MEN URGED TO ADOPT BABIES

Should Take One For Every $20 a Week They Earn.

St. Louis, Mo., March 23.—"Every young married man or woman who earns $20 a week or more should adopt a baby. If he or she earns $40 a week, two babies should be adopted," said Dr. Lindsay Wynkoop, of Chicago, in speaking at the National Congress of Mothers, in session here.

"Taking care of a child is not a burden," continued Dr. Wynkoop, as she explained to the delegates that although she had three of her own, she had adopted a girl. "It does more to build up the character of a man than anything else. It makes him responsible for a human being and it probably will save a life."

TIED HIMSELF TO BULL

Butcher Is Dragged Nearly a Mile by Unruly Animal.

Allentown, Pa., March 23.—When George Kressly, a butcher, started to lead a bull from a farm to the slaughter house in this city he made the mistake of tying to his wrist the rope by which he was leading the animal.

On the way the bull became unruly. The rope was attached so tightly to the man that he was unable to let go and he was dragged nearly a mile.

When he eventually succeeded in freeing himself he had been almost stripped of his clothes. He is under the care of a doctor for numerous bruises and abrasions and a broken finger. The bull is still at large.

PUBLICITY ANNOYS CARNEGIE BEAUTY

Miss Virginia Lee Unnerved From Excitement.

IS BESIEGED BY SUITORS

Iron Master's "World's Prettiest Girl" Is Flooded With Offers From Advertising Companies.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 23.—Virginia Lee, the twenty-year-old blue-eyed, brown-haired stenographer, is the most popular girl in Pittsburg, if not in the whole country.

Since Andrew Carnegie declared her to be "the prettiest girl in the world," Miss Lee has been swamped with marriage proposals from wealthy and poor men, old and young.

Incidentally her employers, the Lough Bridge Engineering company, are wondering whether they are to retain the services of their star typewriter and shorthand artist, or whether they are soon to be called upon to furnish a wedding present and a bill for expensive orange blossoms.

Reporters are beginning to get the closed door when they approach the engineering offices in the Oliver building. There has been a steady stream of newspaper men since the story of Carnegie's discovery got out, all anxiously demanding to interview Miss Lee, and incidentally to see the lovely face that won from the steel king an unqualified assertion couched in terms of the superlative.

Callers at the office where Miss Lee works either were informed that Miss Lee had gone home for the day, or if they chanced to hear a silvery laugh floating through the open transom above the door separating the outer reception hall from the inner office where the prettiest girl toils, that she was weary of being interviewed and would talk to no one.

"Miss Lee took the story good naturedly when it was first printed," said a member of the firm. "Now the poor girl is really ill because of the excitement and the congratulations that have been pouring in since the article appeared. We permitted her to go home early because she seemed so nervous we were afraid she might collapse. She says she doesn't want to talk to anyone."

Despite the profusion of compliments and flattery heaped upon the young woman, she persisted in reporting for work and stuck steadily to her typewriter until her employers sent her home for a much needed rest.

Miss Lee was waylaid at the elevator door when she was going out, and between pretty blushes and protestations she managed to plead for a cessation of the stories that have been printed.

"I hope you won't print anything more about this," she said. "I think the matter has been given enough publicity. I don't care to say whether or not I liked Mr. Carnegie's statement, because you'll publish everything I say. I know you'll be real nice about it and not say anything more."

Miss Lee continues to receive letters and telegrams from various manufacturers and advertising companies, asking for photographs and the privilege of using her portrait in advertising matter, but it is understood she has scorned all these offers and prefers to remain the simple, demure young lady whose innocent face has touched the heart of the ruddy Laird. The story as it was printed came as such a shock to her that she has been bewildered ever since.

Washington, March 23.—Representative Robert E. Lee, of the Twelfth Pennsylvania district, and Representative Michael Donohoe, of Philadelphia, had a conference at the White House with the president in regard to the efforts now in progress to avert the threatened coal strike in which efforts both of the Pennsylvania members are taking an active part.

They are urging the amendment and President Taft is said to favor it. The Erdman act now authorizes the president to intervene only in railroad strikes.

Their talk with the president had particular reference to the measure which Mr. Lee has introduced, and which now is pending before the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, to extend the provisions of the Erdman act to include the settlement of such labor troubles as are impending in the coal industry.

The president told the Pennsylvanians he was greatly pleased with the workings of the Erdman act and that he thought it had been the means of accomplishing a great deal of good in successfully disposing of controversies between railroads and their employees.

He told them he was heartily in sympathy with any movement which would prevent labor trouble and declared that what the country wants is prosperity rather than hardship, and that every effort in the direction of gaining that prosperity through agencies that would prevent trouble between employers and employees should be encouraged.

Mr. Lee explained to the president the provisions of his measure and set forth the method by which it could be invoked to prevent a disastrous coal strike. The two Pennsylvania members left the president with the impression that they would have the co-operation and support of the president. If the Lee bill is favorably acted upon by the house and senate it is believed it will have the approval of the president.

The sub-committee of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, of which Representative Smith, of Texas, is chairman, will meet Monday and hear Judge Knapp, of the court of commerce; Interstate Commerce Commissioner E. E. Clark and C. P. Neill, labor commissioner, all of whom were members of the anthracite coal strike commission ten years ago, on the Lee bill. The measure is receiving favorable commendation, and the belief is growing it may be passed in time to be operative in connection with the threatened strike.

For the present, at least, the president will not take any steps toward bringing about an adjustment of the coal trouble. Some of those who are best conversant with the situation believe a mistake was made in inviting John Mitchell to confer with the president instead of J. P. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and that this was the reason why the conference was called off.

The president wants to see the strike averted, but at present there is nothing which he can do and he must await further developments.

FOREIGNERS ARE LEAVING

Not Sure of Strike, But Think It Good Time to Visit Relatives in Europe.

Philadelphia, March 23.—From the city of Wilkes-Barre comes the report that an exodus of miners from the hard coal fields has begun in anticipation of suspension of mine operations on April 1.

About 100 foreigners employed in the collieries of the Nanticoke region left Wilkes-Barre for New York, where they are expected to embark for their homes abroad. The men said they were not convinced that there would be a strike, but they thought the present a good time to visit relatives in Europe. They added that they would probably return in July.

From New York comes a report that the hard coal operators may meet there next week to consider the situation. They may submit a counter proposition to the miners' union. The operators now seem disposed to treat with the miners, and are ready to renew negotiations.

While the operators believe that there will be a suspension of mining, at least in the hard coal fields, when the contract expires at midnight on March 31, they deny they are engaging any new men. They say these would not serve their purpose, and their presence in the coal regions would create ill feeling. They have been engaging in Philadelphia, however, men to act as guards, cooks, waiters, firemen and general utility men to go to the mining camps to protect the collieries in the event of trouble.

Blast Kills Three Workmen.

Stroudsburg, Pa., March 23.—As the result of an explosion at the Henry vity cut-off three Italian workmen were blown to pieces. A blast had been set off, but it was not altogether effective. The Italians went to investigate, when the charge burst.

AFTER March 31st Raymond's Restaurant will be in Riele building, 31 Chambersburg street, instead of First National Bank Building.

Resolution Provides For House of 315 Members.

Washington, March 23.—Representative Lindbergh, of Minnesota, has prepared a resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution authorizing a radical reorganization of the legislative branch of the federal government.

The Lindbergh resolution will provide for a house of representatives of 315 members, with no upper branch. Three hundred members would be elected for terms of seven years. Fifteen of the members should be elected by the country at large, each for a term of fifteen years. Mr. Lindbergh's resolution will provide that the fifteen members thus elected shall be known as the committee at large.

The committee at large would have a veto power over legislation passed by the house proper. Legislation disapproved by the committee at large would not go to the president for approval unless passed over the committee's veto by a two-thirds vote of the house.

The Lindbergh resolution will provide that only native-born Americans shall be eligible for election to the committee at large. The reason for this is that with the office of vice president abolished succession to the presidency is provided for through the committee. In the event of disability or death of the president, the Lindbergh plan provides that the chairman of the committee shall succeed to the office.

The principle of the recall will be a prominent feature of the Lindbergh resolution. It will provide that any member of the house or any member of the committee at large may be recalled at any biennial election.

REJECT COMPROMISE

Soft Coal Miners Refuse to Renew Present Wage Agreement.

Cleveland, O., March 23.—Following a meeting of the sub-committee concerning the differences between the bituminous coal operators and miners it was announced that the miners had rejected a proposition of the operators to continue the present wage agreement.

Previously the operators had held out for a ten per cent decrease. Two compromise offers by the operators were voted down by the miners. These offers were:

That the present wage and working scale be continued for two years after its expiration on April 1.

That there be no suspension of the mines on any account.

The miners had asked for a 10 per cent increase in pay and a shortening of working hours. As against this the operators had asked that the wage scale be cut down 10 per cent. The offer of the operators to continue the present wage scale was in the nature of a compromise.

Woman Shot Man at Grave.

Cleveland, O., March 23.—While attending the funeral of a friend in Calvary cemetery, Mrs. Mary McCarthy shot and probably fatally wounded John Gallagher, aged twenty-eight, Gallagher fell at the edge of the grave with a bullet in his left breast. Mrs. McCarthy was arrested. Police say she told them that Gallagher had made remarks about her.

To Break Up Cold

Some Advice That Will Save Time and Money

Strong drink and quinine may relieve a cold, but it usually does more harm than good.

To break up a hard cold in either head or chest thousands are using this sensible treatment.

First of all look after your bowels; if they need attention use any reliable cathartic. Then pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEL into a bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with a towel and breathe for five or ten minutes the pleasant, soothing, healing vapor.

Do this just before going to bed; your head will feel fine and clear and you'll awake from a refreshing sleep minus a cold in the morning.

For colds, coughs, catarrh, asthma and croup HYOMEL is guaranteed. A fifty cent bottle is all you need to break up a cold and this can be obtained at The People's Drug Store and druggists everywhere.
